

Power Cycling a Device

Sometimes when troubleshooting it may be necessary to power cycle the device. There are a couple of steps.

First you will need to open the black box case by pulling the two panels apart and lift up the circuit board.

Then you need to disconnect the red and black wires from the circuit board.

Keep the wires disconnected for 15-30 seconds. Then plug it back in and install the device back into the truck making sure to connect the power cable.
